About This Workspace

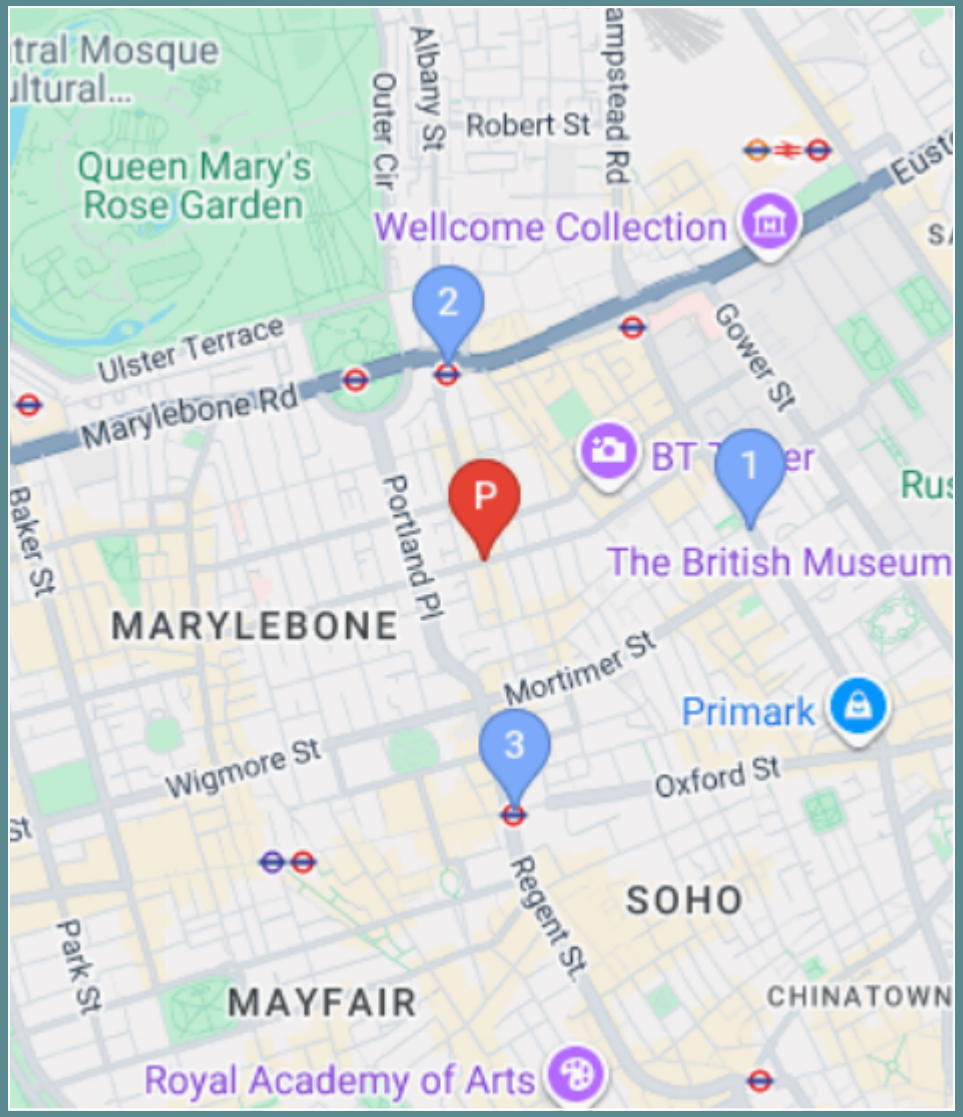

Not a loft and not a tower. An 1898 building with shops at street level, and the second floor is the one nearest the pavement: short stairs, and the street still there when you look up from the screen. Full-height sash windows front and back, air conditioning and LED lighting from a recent refurbishment, showers in the building. One open room, or private offices if you prefer. Oxford Circus is six minutes on foot, Regent's Park about the same, The Riding House Cafe a few minutes for lunch. Right for a team that wants the shorter climb and the street outside the window.
