About This Workspace

The top floor is the one with the roof in it. Open eaves, exposed masonry, light from the front and the back: the warehouse bones the rest of the building has to work harder to show. The refurbishment is under way, with new cooling, LED lighting, a lift to every floor and a shower on this one, and an occupier signing early can still shape some of the finish. Paddington's Praed Street entrance is round the corner. Right for a team that wants to sit under the roof of a warehouse by the station.
